Our Week

This week, we continued to work on learning routines and rules, but also began doing things academically. We started ABC bootcamp on Tuesday, and learned about the letters T, B and F. For each letter the students did the following: learned a movement dance, created a circle map with words that begin with that letter, learned how to write the capital and lowercase form, and watched the Jack Hartmann video on YouTube for that letter. They did a great job doing show and tell today, telling the class what their item was, what letter it started with, and the sound that letter makes.

For math this week, the students learned about the number 0, and also did some work on the 5 shapes we will learn about (circle, triangle, square, rectangle, hexagon). We did a scavenger hunt for these shapes around our room. This was a fun activity, and is something you can always do at home, too!

We also did our first poem this week- poetry notebooks came home today!

Next week we will begin start going to the computer lab with Mrs. Ragen to practice using the computers. The students will be taking their MAP tests on the computer the following week.

We will also begin learning about Daily 5. Students will learn what stamina is, and how they will work on building their stamina each day so that hopefully at the end of October, they are ready to do 6 different stations independently for 20 minutes each. I look forward to starting this with them!

In math, we will do math centers focused on counting and shapes, and learning how to use different manipulatives in our classroom.
